

Viadrina Ukrainian Studies Conference

Rethinking Ukrainian Studies: Locally, Regionally, Transnationally

Ukraine with its complex history, cultural diversity, post-Soviet political pluralism and situational bilingualism is a fascinating and promising field for interdisciplinary and transnational research. What are Ukrainian studies nowadays? How could they develop both locally and internationally? Which challenges and chances do they offer to the German university system? How could Ukrainian literature and history, as well as post-Maidan commemoration practices be conceptualized nowadays? What potential does Ukraine have for re-thinking the phenomenon of cultural, religious, and language heterogeneity in Europe?

with

Jan C. Behrends (Potsdam)
Timm Beichelt (Frankfurt/Oder)
Werner Benecke (Frankfurt/Oder)
Liliya Berezhnaya (Münster)
Rory Finnin (Cambridge)
Susi K. Frank (Berlin)
Olena Haleta (Lviv)
Alexander Kratochvil (Berlin)
Oleksandr Osipian (Leipzig)
Andrii Portnov (Frankfurt/Oder)
Viktoria Sereda (Lviv)
Barbara Törnquist-Plewa (Lund)
Annette Werberger (Frankfurt/Oder)
Andrew Wilson (London)
Serhy Yekelchik (Victoria, Canada)
Tatiana Zhurzhenko (Vienna)

CONFERENCE VENUE

16 May
Frankfurt Oder

🏠 Viadrina (Senatssaal)
Große Scharnstr. 59, Room 109

17 May
Ślubice

🏠 Collegium Polonicum
Kościuszki 1, 69-100

Prisma Ukraina Research Network
Eastern Europe
Forum
Transregionale
Studien

16–17 May 2019

I DAY - 17:30 - 20:00
II DAY - 10:00 - 20:00

EUROPA-UNIVERSITÄT
VIADRINA
FRANKFURT (ODER)

Organised by: The Chair of Entangled History of Ukraine